

Seasonal Tunes

The most obvious seasonal tunes have to do with holidays. There are many more, though. Just as seasonal changes lead us to create and crave certain culinary delights, we also associate certain songs with the times of year, due the song titles, and especially the lyrics. These are some of the seasonal songs that have turned up through students bringing them in.

Spring

- April Come She Will – Simon and Garfunkel
- Ship in the Clouds - Traditional
- Up Jumped Spring – Freddie Hubbard
- Windy and Warm – Chet Atkins
- What I Love About the Rain – Art Garfunkel; written by Tom Kimmell & Lisa Aschmann

Fall

- Autumn Leaves – Joseph Kosma
- Cold Frosty Morning – Traditional
- Cattle in the Cane – Traditional
- September Song - Kurt Weill
- Wake Me Up – Green Day
- Who Knows Where the Time Goes - Judy Collins
- Wichita – Gillian Welch

Winter

- Baby, it's Cold Outside – Frank Loesser
- California Dreamin' - The Mama's and the Papas
- Canned Goods (Summer in a Jar) – Greg Brown
- Coldest Night of the Year – Bruce Cockburn
- Colorado Christmas - Nitty Gritty Dirt Band written by Steve Goodman
- Cold Night – the subdudes
- River - Joni Mitchell
- "Two Below" Honey – Van Morrison
- Wintry Feelin' – Jesse Winchester

Summer

- Dancin' in the Street – Martha Reeves and the Vandellas
- Home-Grown Tomatoes – Guy Clark
- Night Moves – Bob Seger
- Summertime – George Gershwin
- Swimmin' Song – McGarrigle Sisters
- Take Me Out to the Ball Game
- Wildflowers – Tom Petty